

Jamestown Paper Staff Man Held For Illegal Entry

Jamestown Sun: U. S. Immigration authorities in Buffalo Tuesday night were holding Robert Stewart Blood, 32, alias Bryan Keith Buchanan of Bristol, England, on a charge of being illegally in the United States.

Under the name of Buchanan, Blood has been employed for the past several weeks as a staff writer by the Jamestown Post-Journal.

Blood also is being held for Washington (D.C.) authorities on a grand larceny charge dating back to last summer.

Capital police told The Jamestown Sun Tuesday night that Blood had been employed as a night clerk at the Dodge Hotel in Washington and on the night of Aug. 1, 1952, had vanished with $495 of the hotel's money.

Capital police said they had forwarded the warrant for Buchanan to Immigration Service authorities in Buffalo and asked he be held by them.

Immigration Service has no detention home in the Buffalo area and is required to use Erie County Jail where Buchanan was lodged Tuesday night.

It was not known exactly when Buchanan entered the United States, but police in Washington said they thought it was well over two years ago. Immigration authorities said that the Englishman told them at the Canadian border checkpoint in Detroit that he intended to spend two days in the United States visiting friends. He vanished, but later was traced to San Francisco, then Washington and New York and finally to Jamestown.

Immigration Service agents picked up Buchanan in his room at 101 East Fourth St. Tuesday afternoon. He was whisked to Buffalo and a jail cell almost immediately.

According to an editor's note which accompanied Buchanan's by-lined stories in the Post-Journal, Buchanan claimed to have "joined the Post-Journal staff from the London, England, offices of the Daily Express." Also according to the editor's note, Buchanan "has encountered so many differences since his arrival here, we have asked him to record some of them for our readers."

New Furnishings Used to Help Allergy Sufferers

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

When tests for allergic reactions show certain housefurnishings to be the culprits, these must be banished if possible. But that needn't leave a room as sterile as a laboratory, thanks to the wide-range of modern materials.

Instead of feathers, for example, there are sponge-free foams and downy synthetic fillers for pillows and comforters. House dust, a notorious offender, can't find a hiding place on the slick surfaces of elastic laminates that top tables and chests.

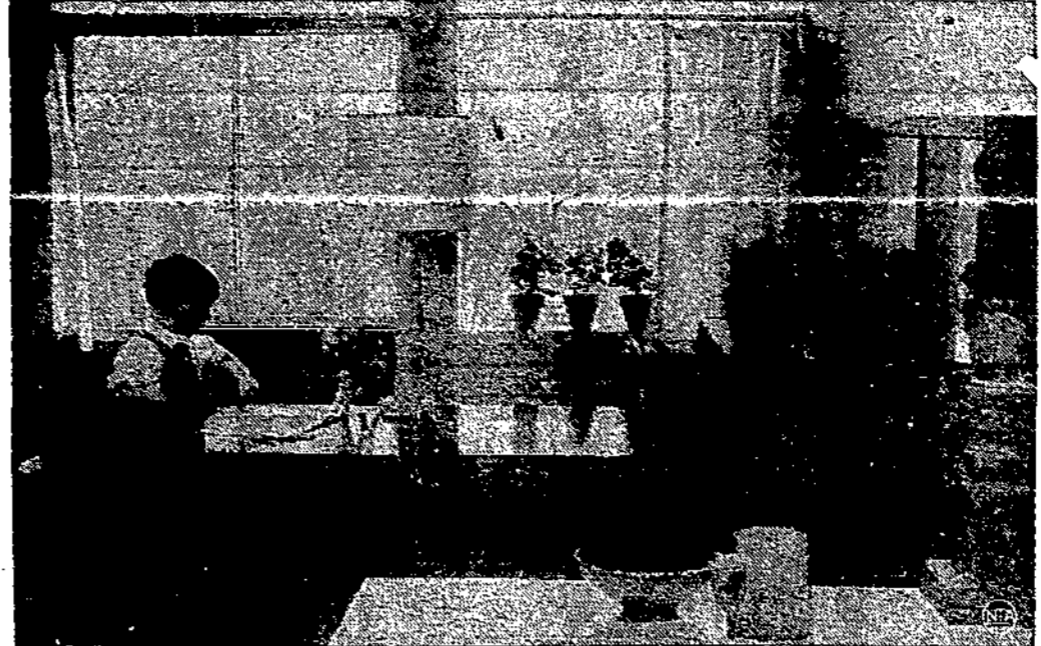

Tiled floors are mopped dust-free in minutes. Synthetic fiber floor coverings often substitute for wool, if that's an offender.

When children are the allergy sufferers, attention must be paid to toys as well as furnishings and the more of both that are washable the easier it is to keep their rooms comfortable.

The virtues of such a room are apparent to mothers of nonallergic children, too. Some of the ideas used in a small boy's room by a mother I know would be as useful if he weren't subject to sneezes and sniffles.

The color scheme is a bright red, maple sugar and white. A novel table of her own design will be used from babyhood through teen-age, thanks to two sets of legs—one high, one low. Formica, in a walnut grain is used on top of the table which is two by five feet.

His legs attached to the top

Comfortable, cheerful boy's room is planned for easy maintenance and a long life. Dust-catchers are tape in this room and nonallergenic furnishings are used wherever possible.

raised it to a comfortable level for diapering and bathing the baby. Now that he's two years old, the lower legs have been substituted and the sturdy table makes a surface for playing and climbing. Later, the legs will be screwed on once more to provide a desk when he's older.

Chests and bookcases are unpainted but finished with a walnut stain and topped with white plastic with matching white porcelain pulls. One of the chests is set at right angles to the wall to create a built-in bed effect.

His bed is mounted on a low frame which adds just the three-inch height required for casters or rug rollers. This keeps the bed low enough for a child. It is easily rolled in and out.

The corduroy bedspread is quilted with a dacron filling which is washable, nonallergic and light to handle. Foam rubber bolsters with maple sugar corduroy covers, turn the bed into a comfortable sitting place for storytelling and play.

White Belgian linen curtains are hung across the lower part of the big glass windows. They are made flat for easy laundering and are hung with brass Ottavia clips which need no pleats or pins. The acrylic rug is striped in red and maple sugar colors to blend with a smooth cork floor.

Picture molding strips are installed around the room permitting a change of pictures and drawings.

New Resolution Proposes Probe Into Blue Cross

HARRISBURG (AP) — An investigation of Blue Cross rates and administrative costs is proposed in a new resolution being considered by a House committee.

Four of the state's five major Blue Cross plans will increase rates sharply starting Saturday for most of the hospital insurance subscribers in Pennsylvania.

The four Republican sponsors of the resolution said in a joint statement "we want to know" if the recent "steep rise in the cost of Blue Cross is justified; and if not, what can be done to protect the subscribers to the plan."

The resolution, introduced Tuesday, would direct the Joint State Government Commission to "study and investigate the costs of Blue Cross hospitalization insurance and the length of time for which protection is given by such insurance."

Friday evening, starting at 6:30 p. m. volunteer fire departments from all over the area will be participating in a water battle that promises thrills and excitement for the crowd.

At 1:30 p. m. Saturday, a tractor-pull is scheduled; at 7:00 p. m., the principal activity will be a firemen's parade.

Concessions will be set up on grounds around the fire hall and it is anticipated these will meet with favor.

House Completes Action On Big Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House completes action today on a $3,186,500,000 foreign aid bill already tentatively approved with deep cuts under President Eisenhower's budget figures.

The formal vote sends the bill to the Senate, which may restore some of the nearly 1 1/2 billions dollars the House trimmed from Eisenhower's recommendations.

The President originally asked $3,930,000,000 for the current year's program. Last week he asked another 500 millions as an advance on next year's authorization, but the House Appropriations Committee rejected the request.

Traditionally, the Senate has dealt more generously with foreign aid than the House. But there have been indications that the Senate may pull the purse strings tighter this year than in the past.

IMPORTANT MOVE

Titusville Herald: The toilet facilities at Drake Well Park were ordered closed to visitors yesterday by the state's Department of Health. Effluent is flowing onto the ground and into a pond in violation of regulations. A septic tank system is in use. The doors are to be kept locked to visitors "until an adequate and properly constructed system is installed," John W. Collins Jr., acting sanitarian, told Curator A. C. Thompson in a letter. The Historical and Museum Commission, which operates the park, has anticipated such an order. Help on the problem has been sought from Titusville, Crawford and Venango counties, the National Guard and elsewhere, but without avail. The commission is without funds because of the tax and budget situation in Harrisburg.

Accidents Take Lives Of 91,000 During 1952

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 91,000 persons were killed, and nine million others suffered disabling injuries in accidents last year in the United States.

But the National Safety Council, which reported the figures, says a person is safer from accidents now than he was 35 years ago.

The 91,000 accidental deaths, the council said, were only 1,100 less than the 1923-32 average of 92,100. It added the record is more impressive when the rapid population growth since 1930 is considered.

There were 77.4 accidental deaths for every 100,000 persons in the country 35 years ago, the council said. Last year there were 52.5 deaths per 100,000 persons. 7-29-53

McPhail Declares Talk of a Third League is "Silly"

BEL AIR, Md. (AP) — Larry MacPhail, the former baseball magnate who once advocated four major leagues, says the current plan to form a third one is "silly."

MacPhail, 69, who turned to raising race horses and cattle on his Maryland farm after retiring as New York Yankees president in 1947, gave a typically frank appraisal of the new league's prospects Tuesday night. He spoke up when asked about speculation that he would be president of the Continental League being formed by a group headed by New York lawyer William Shea.

Discounting such speculation, he expressed doubt that any such independently born league could attain real major league status.

"It's silly to try to do that, in my opinion."

Eighteen months ago MacPhail broke a 10-year silence on public statements about baseball to criticize the National League's approval of moving the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to the West Coast.

He said at that time he had favored working toward four major leagues as early as 1947 by start on its way toward a third major league. His idea also called for the eventual merger of the American Assn. and International League into a fourth major circuit.

Coast Teacher Being Tried on Turpitude Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three blushing high school girls have testified they were shocked and embarrassed by questions and answers about sex in a physiology class.

The girls were witnesses at a hearing on allegations on unprofessional conduct and moral turpitude against the teacher, Cecil M. Cook, 37. If convicted by the State Board of Education hearing officer, he faces loss of his teaching credentials.

The course was conducted in a Van Nuys high school class of 30 boys and girls, aged 15 to 17, who attended voluntarily.

The witnesses said the part they deemed objectionable was a survey, based on nine questions covering the field of sex. Additional questions were discussed in open class.

Subjects included students' habits on kissing, petting, and more advanced sexual experience.

"The kids laughed at the first questions, but as they got worse they all sort of gasped," said Patricia Spicer, 17. But, she added, everyone answered.

There was nothing vile, obscene, indecent or immoral in the way the class was conducted, she said. Another student, blonde Marilyn

NEGLIGENT MANSLAUGHTER
Polio is supposed to be the beaten scourge. Since 1955 we have had the Salk vaccine, effective in from 75 to 90 per cent of cases where it has been administered as a preventive.
But 1959 so far has turned out to be the worst polio year since the vaccine was introduced. Cases on record are nearing double 1958 totals for the comparable period.
Reports of the increased incidence are coming in from all sections of the nation. Worst hit is Iowa, especially in Des Moines and vicinity.
Surveys there and in Kansas City suggest that the chief victims are individuals in the lower economic groups. This was also found to be true in an outbreak some time back in Chicago.
In these groups, the evidence indicates, the Salk vaccine is most widely ignored as a protective measure.
The full story is, of course, that across the nation many millions of youngsters in the most susceptible age brackets still have no Salk shots or too few. It is one of the really sad chapters in modern U. S. medical history.

AWARD FOR LARRY STOTZ
It was with real pride that we printed on page one of Tuesday's issue news that Forest Ranger Laurence E. Stotz, of the Allegheny National Forest, had been presented with a "Certificate of Merit" and a monetary award of $150, by Forest Supervisor John E. Franson, at the Sheffield Rotary Club meeting, in recognition of superior work of his column "Your Forest Ranger" which appears as a regular weekly feature in The Times-Mirror.
As Mr. Franson stated the column has discussed a wide range of topics to further public acceptance of good forest and water conservation practices, and this is a good time for us to remind the author that we are indeed happy that we are on his mailing list of papers to receive his articles.

BICYCLE INSPECTION
It should not be necessary to remind all owners, both young and old, of the importance of having bicycles inspected during the period which opens Thursday at playgrounds in the borough.
This is a must, incidentally, for all bike owners, and in this connection those residing outside Warren, are reminded they take advantage of the service offered by the officials.
In the process a record is kept at police headquarters of the bicycle's owners, his address and telephone number, a description of the wheel and the serial number.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two obvious questions have hovered over Vice President Richard M. Nixon's journey ever since he decided to go to the Soviet Union. How will he do? What will this mean for him politically?
The answers to both will probably be less than sensational unless something unusual happens for good or bad. It hasn't happened yet—so far as is known—and there is no reason to believe it will.
He has shaken hands with Soviet citizens, conferred with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, kept himself in the headlines by the very nature of his trip, and expressed American goodwill.
That's the most he was supposed to do, since his mission was billed as a goodwill trip. If he had made any gains with Khrushchev—and newsmen with him indicate he hasn't—that would have been extra.
He could upset the applecart internationally and personally—when, after leaving the U.S.S.R. he stops off a couple of days in Poland. The people there have tried to tear themselves loose a bit from the Soviet Communist hug.
Since there are many people of Polish descent in this country, it is possible that Nixon, carried away with a desire to please Poles here and there, may say something so anti-Soviet that any good

"Mind if I Sit Here?"
Polio cases during the first 27 weeks of this year are running 50 to 100% higher than during a similar period a year ago according to Dr. L. D. Williams, Region III Medical Director. So far this year 791 cases of paralytic polio have occurred in the United States as compared to 385 during the same period a year ago. Dr. Williams points out that as early as January, Public Health Service Scientists were predicting a severe polio epidemic unless more persons took advantage of the polio vaccine. The most recent figures available indicate that fewer than half of the pre-school children have been properly immunized and only 25% of the persons in the 20 to 40 age group. As in the past, polio cases will probably continue to increase through August and September. The decline in cases usually comes sometime in October. Dr. Williams also points out that the lower economic groups need special attention as do all pre-school children since this group was hit hardest last year according to the studies carried out by the U. S. Public Health Service. Dr. Williams urges everyone to visit their physician as soon as possible and take advantage of the protection the polio vaccine affords.
A runner, holding high a flaming torch, will be featured on the 10-cent airmail stamp to be released at Chicago August 27 to mark the opening there of the Pan American Games, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. This stamp will be printed in red and blue on white, in panes of 50. Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send self-addressed envelopes to the postmaster, Chicago 7, Ill., prior to August 27 together with remittance to cover cost of stamps to be affixed. Outside envelope to postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Pan American Games stamp."

Labor Political Problems Are Big Test for Congress
By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Labor tycoon James R. Hoffa's professed new interest in politics—inspired by the scouring he has taken from the McClellan Committee and others—has aroused mild curiosity in union political action circles.
Hoffa is reported to be planning for the 1960 campaign on a grand scale. He has announced a plan to use union funds to educate the working people on where the politicians stand—presumably against him.
The Teamsters' past record in political activity hasn't been too good. Reports filed with Congress show less than $1,000 in teamster money openly contributed in the 1960 campaign. But there were other politicking afoot.
The Teamsters Union supported ex-Gov. James H. Duff (R) against Sen. Joseph H. Clark (D) in Pennsylvania and lost. They supported Judge Homer Ferguson (R) against Sen. Pat McNamara (D) in Michigan and lost. They supported their boy, ex-Rep. George H. Bender (R) against Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D) in Ohio and lost.
LAST YEAR THE TEAMSTERS, along with the rest of the labor movement, supported Gov. Ernest McFarland (D) against Sen. Barry Goldwater (R) in Arizona, and lost.
There are two members of the Teamsters Union in Congress now. They are Rep. John Francis Shelley of San Francisco and Rep. Jeffrey Cohelan of Berkeley. Both of these Californians are Democrats. Both are also anti-Hoffa men. Representative Shelley has been given prominent consideration as a reform candidate to succeed Hoffa as Teamster president.
Great claims have been made for the political machine which the teamster locals in St. Louis built up under Harold Gibbons. This is being held up as a model for future teamster political action.
All this teamster political talk comes at a time when Sen. John L. McClellan's Labor Rackets Investigating Committee is considering how and to what extent it will probe labor union and management political activities.
THE COMMITTEE STAFF OF NEARLY 50 investigators, counsels and clerks under Robert F. Kennedy has gathered material for three more series of public hearings. They will cover the garment industry and hotel labor contracts in the New York area and the Hendersonville, N.C., textile strike.
It has not been decided whether to hold public hearings on one phase of United Auto Workers activities—not involving Walter Reuther personally—or on labor-management political activities.
But when all these hearings are concluded in September, the McClellan Committee will begin to windup its business and write its final report.
CHAIRMAN MCCLELLAN ADMITS THAT the job is not done. He thinks there should be a permanent investigating committee to watch future labor-management relations. For all the skullbangers which the McClellan Committee has exposed, it has had little apparent effect on Congress.
The Senate-passed labor bill introduced by his committee member, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), was not as strong as the chairman thought it should have been.
This Senate bill has now been further watered down by 100 amendments written in the House Labor Committee.
Still it is too strong medicine for Hoffa and others who have lobbied against it and for the AFL-CIO which is preparing a substitute bill of its own.
The acid test for the 86th Congress is whether it will knuckle under to this labor political dictation.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Are movie audiences getting fed up with bigness on the theater screens? Gregory Peck thinks so.
Bigness came in with a bang when the movies suffered the competition of the small home screen. Hollywood thought it had to give the people larger scope. That thinking brought on Cinemascope, Cinerama, VistaVision, Todd-AO and the type of films that could fill such immense screens.
But too often the characters got smaller as the scope grew bigger. The time has come to reverse the trend, says Peck.
"I'm fed up with crowd scenes and spectacles," he remarked.
"I believe the time has come to find out what goes on inside of people, not on the outside. The province of pictures today should be to develop real people, put them in interesting situations and see what happens to them."
For just such reasons, he is now portraying F. Scott Fitzgerald in "Beloved Infidel." This is the story of the jazz age author's romance with Columnist Sheila Graham during his Hollywood decline.
Peck never met Fitzgerald. He arrived here as an actor two years after the novelist's death in 1940.
"You hear it both ways," he said. "Some say that Scott created terribly embarrassing scenes at parties. Others say that he was quiet and always sat in a corner."
"Some say that he wrote brilliantly. But David Selznick told me he was incapable of writing a dramatic scene that had a beginning and ending and developed into something."
"At any rate, I am not attempting an imitation. I don't look like Scott and I am not a night club imitator. I can only do what I can to capture the essence of the man and hope that his friends will feel that I haven't done him violence."

How to Keep Well

TINGLING AND NUMBNESS OF THE HANDS
Numbness and tingling of the hands usually are caused by anemia, poor circulation, or pressure on a nerve. Much depends upon the site of discomfort and when and how it develops.
Many women complain of these symptoms, especially at night. The pins and needles sensation is most noticeable along the inner aspect of the thumb, index, and middle fingers, corresponding to the area supplied by the median nerve. This is one of the main nerves of the arm. It passes through a tunnel of fibrous tissue in the wrist on its way to the hands and fingers.
Pressure on the nerve is responsible, but in the past most physicians made no attempt to determine where it was. We now know that pressure often occurs at the wrist where the median nerve passes through the fibrous tunnel (carpal tunnel syndrome). The nerve is swollen, in some instances, and does not fit. In others, the rim of the tunnel is swollen so that the nerve is squeezed.
At any rate, surgery may be needed in cases in which numbness is continuous and progressive. An English physician reported good results with Diuril, a medicine that reduces swelling. This treatment was most effective when the syndrome took place in pregnant women.
Pressure on the ulnar nerve is suspected whenever numbness develops over the little and ring fingers. The nerve going through the groove that is called the crazy bone, and injury in this region may produce the pressure responsible for the numbness.
All the nerves of the hand come originally from the brachial plexus in the neck. Pressure in this part of the body usually stems from an extra rib, thick muscles, tumors, scar tissue, or sagging shoulders during sleep. The latter is common among those who curl up like a cat in bed.
Changing position usually relieves distress. But special needed to determine the exact cause of numbness and tingling.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies letter.

PERSPIRATION CONTROL
A. R. writes: I have spent much money on deodorant products but they do not help my underarm perspiration. I have to wear shields, which I do not like. Is there anything I can do to help this condition?
Reply
I assume you take a daily bath and shave the underarm hair. If ordinary anti-perspirants are ineffective, consult your physician about the use of an anti-cholinergic drug of the type used in peptic ulcer. A side reaction of these remedies is the reduction of perspiration all over the body and dryness of the mouth and lips.
FAMILY FATIGUE
Mrs. Z. writes: Does tiredness run in families? I understand my husband was always tired as a child and now my grandchildren are always tired.
Reply
Possibly. Some individuals are more alert and have more pep, ambition, and stamina than others. These children should be examined for diseases that cause fatigue. If none exists this may be a tired family but don't talk about it in front of the children.
MUSCLE INFLAMMATION
G. I. writes: Does rheumatism cause a slight fever?
Reply
If you refer to rheumatoid arthritis, fever develops especially during the acute stage when joint inflammation is severe.

Boyle's Column
NEW YORK (AP) — Eighteen months from now the White House will have a new occupant.
No one can say now for sure although a lot of people feel they already know.
The odds are, however, he won't have been born in June. No June baby has ever become president. The biggest months for presidential births have been October and November, each with five.
Here are a few facts and statistics about the job that has been called the most powerful elective office in the world:
George Washington, who died childless, is known as the father of his country. But the champion White House daddy was the 10th President, John Tyler. He had 14 children by two wives.
Presidents tend to have more sons than do average dads. The 33 presidents have fathered 71 sons but only 47 daughters.
James Buchanan, the 15th President, was the only bachelor. But five Presidents married a second time after the deaths of their first wives.
Most popular first name among presidents has been "James." Five were so named.
Not one in a thousand Americans knows the real first name of U.S. Grant, the 18th President, was Hiram. He was baptized Hiram Ulysses but adopted the name Ulysses Simpson Grant after he was so erroneously entered at West Point in 1839.
The first name of Calvin Coolidge was John. The first name of Grover Cleveland was Stephen. The first name of Woodrow Wilson was Thomas.
Shortest-lived President was James A. Garfield, assassinated at 49. Longest-lived was John Adams, who lived to be 90.
He and Thomas Jefferson died on the same day, July 4, 1826.
Virginia has given birth to more U.S. Presidents than any other state, eight. Ohio is next with six.
Only three Presidents have been born West of the Mississippi River—Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman, and Dwight D. Eisenhower.
Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest man ever to become President — at 42 years, 10 months, 16 days.
Fifteen U.S. Presidents — including both Roosevelts — have been Freemasons.
Millard Fillmore, the 13th President, was apprenticed as a youth to a fuller and dyer. Some time later he paid $30 to buy his "freedom" so he could study to become a teacher.
President Zachary Taylor was briefly the father-in-law of Jefferson Davis, leader of the Confederacy. Taylor's daughter Sarah died three months after her marriage to Davis in 1855.
When George Washington died he was one of the wealthiest men in America, owning 110,000 acres of land. What a golf course that would have made!
Abraham Lincoln's estate totaled $110,295, much of which he saved from his $25,000 salary as President.

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP E. STEWART

White mums formed a lovely setting in Epworth Methodist church July 18, when Florence Leona Chapel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin James Chapel of 162 Crescent Park, became the bride of Philip Eugene Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, Sr., 2 Bauer street.

The Rev. James F. Allen performed the double ring ceremony at 2:00 p. m. with Mrs. Mohr at the organ and Don Smith singing "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me".

Wearing floor-length champagne lace and carrying a bouquet of red roses, white daisies and greens, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with Peter Pan collar, sleeves tapering over the hands, and bouffant skirt featuring lace-edged scalloping and peak-a-boo front of nylon tulle tiers. An orange blossom crown held her elbow-length veil of imported French pure silk illusion.

As maid of honor, Etta Stewart wore pink chiffon over taffeta, with matching hat and white gloves, and carried white roses, colored daisies and pink net. Mrs. Sandra Carlson, bridesmaid, was similarly attired in blue and white, with blue net in her bouquet. Junior bridesmaid was Sandra Lindell, wearing white nylon, with pink, blue and yellow floral trim. Her headband was of yellow daisies and yellow net accented her rose and daisy bouquet.

Completing the bridal party, David Wilbur was best man; ushers were Dick Smith, Boyd Smith, James Chapel and Edwin Rickerson.

Mrs. Chapel chose a pink rose corsage with a frock of navy blue nylon and Mrs. Stewart wore white roses with pink lace, each with white accessories.

White appointments decorated Glade Township Fire Hall, where the reception for 150 guests was held at 3:00 p. m. Out of town relatives and friends came from Alliquippa, Clarendon, Philadelphia, York and Erie. Playing at the reception were The Melody Boys, Wallis Edgar, Bill Littlefield, Hollis E. Klester and Robert Chapel.

Returning July 26 from a honeymoon at Crystal Beach, the couple will be at home to friends at 311 Pennsylvania avenue, east. For travel, the bride selected a white nylon dress with yellow trim to match yellow and white accessories.

Matching candleholders held white tapers having silver accents and each tied with a red rose. SOCIETY

Lutheran Church Women of Ludlow Hear of Study and Project Plans

Ludlow — Mrs. Elizabeth Wakefield, Kane YWCA secretary, was guest speaker for the July meeting of ALCW at Moriah church, giving a most interesting history of the Association, listing the opportunities it affords youth and enumerating its many needs.

Rose Nelson conducted the business session, in which it was decided to purchase clothing for Middle East refugees, known as the Dorcas Project, and have the articles ready for the October meeting. A filmstrip, "Exiles of the Near East," will be shown at that time.

Members were advised concerning envelopes and told they must be ordered shortly, the decision concerning type to be made at the August meeting. This session will be in the form of a tureen supper on the church lawn, with the Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Olson speaking on programming and the latter to stress new ALCW materials for the year.

Several members offered to help at the Sunday school-congregational picnic, to be held tomorrow at Wildcat Park. Edith Larson is general chairman and a large attendance is urged. Those not contacted by the committee on what to bring should come any way and bring their own table service.

A report on the reading session, held over a three-week period to read aloud "The Sound Goes Forth" by Ruth Juran Smith, was reported most successful. There were 14 registered and never less than 10 in attendance. Readers and hostesses were reported earlier. Last of the series was a picnic supper at Wildcat Park, with 24 present to hear Rev. Robert E. Olson of Johnsonburg speak on the proposed Lutheran merger.

Tillie Olson reported there are 63 ALCW members; Mrs. Leonard Engman reported over 300 items of good clothing sent to Wisconsin Indians and six boxes of hospital and lavette supplies sent to the Kombi Mission and the Wembere Leprosarium, both in Africa.

She also stated 346 pounds of clothing was sent to Lutheran World Relief in June, and extended her thanks to all the women for their work and interest. A letter of appreciation was read from Dr. Chell, who works with the Indians in Wisconsin.

Reporting on education and the reading session, Mrs. Enoch Nelson urged members and friends to attend the ALCW week at the New York Conference Camp on Chautauque Lake August 2-8. Mrs. Nelson will attend for the week, as will Mrs. Olson of Johnsonburg, and both will appear on a program on Thursday.

Special speakers for the week will be the Rev. Martin Langwall, staff evangelist for the board of missions, and the Rev. Hirschi Fujii of Japan, student at Augustana Seminary the past two years and returning to his home country in September.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Melvin McCleary and Edith Larson, who served coffee at a beautifully-appointed table.

ANNIVERSARY FOR FORMER AREA FOLKS

CORDON — Mr. and Mrs. Carl O'Dell, former well known residents now living in Little Valley, recently spent a week-end in Rochester with their daughter, Mrs. Charles Dischavage, and observed their 55th wedding anniversary.

Their five children, five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren were all in attendance. Their other children are Mrs. Andrew Dischavage and Myron O'Dell, Rochester; Mrs. Myrtle O'Dell, Franklinville; and Victor O'Dell, at home.

If You Want to Keep Him Interested, Take Notice

If you want to keep a young man interested—Don't wait by the telephone hoping he'll call. Keep busy, as you'll have something to talk about when he does get you on the line.

Don't say, "It doesn't make any difference to me" when he asks you what you want to do or gives you a choice. Even though you are just trying to be pleasant and agreeable you'll sound wishy-washy and uninterested.

Don't stop dating everyone else, unless the two of you are engaged. That makes you seem too eager to be his one and only. Don't try to impress him by talking about other dates. You'll impress him a lot more if you give him your full attention.

If he is shy, do more than your share of making small talk. He'll be grateful to you for putting him at ease.

Don't get him into situations where he may have to spend more money than he can afford. That's a good way to get a reputation as a gold digger.

Don't run down other girls or he is sure to think you are jealous or carry.

Don't talk about yourself all the time. But let him talk about himself all he pleases.

When you double date don't pay more attention to the other girl, even if she is your closest friend, than you do to your date. Lots of girls make this mistake.

Don't try to make him think you are more sophisticated than you are. Just be yourself.

Don't call him at home or at work. He's far more likely to be annoyed than pleased.

The Mature Parent

If You Really Cared You Wouldn't Whine

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

He signs his letter "American Male." Reminding me that I said American women resent fathering their husbands' children, he writes:

"You're kidding yourself, lady. American women's aggressiveness has made them notorious throughout the world. They love wearing our pants. I know. I'm married to one. You're all just a bunch of female spiders who devour their mates as soon as their eggs are fertilized...."

Oh boy, am I sick of this line! Why do you allow yourself to be devoured, sir? Why do you let us wear your pants? If you want them back, why don't you take them?

Do you know what you sound like? Like a baby whining because Mommy won't give him back his bag of lollipops.

The fact is, those American males who are continually complaining about the loss of their pants don't really want them back. Or they'd have grabbed them back.

It takes two people to make a dominating woman, sir. To make one you have to have another person who wants to be dominated. You have to have a person who needs to blame somebody else for his fear of disagreeable friction, or the loneliness involved in decision, or responsibility for mistakes.

Just as you can't have a tyrant without someone who loves submission, you can't have a dominating woman without someone who loves being her child.

Just reread what you've written to me. No woman has identified you with a helpless, exploitable male spider. You have identified yourself with this wretched insect.

And that is the problem. If some members of your sex insist on regarding themselves as exploitable insects, you can't expect members of mine to restore you your human dignity.

That's something we all—both men and women—have to sweat out for ourselves. We can't beg Mommy to give it to us. It is no a lollipop. It's something we have to give birth to ourselves: something that must suddenly rise like a tower inside us so that nothing but our human inhumanity matters—neither disagreeable friction making mistakes, popular disapproval or loss of protection.

Mommy gives birth to us all only once, sir. Our subsequent birth we have to give to ourselves.

He slapped his little sister and his mother punished him by sending him to his room. Later, hearing noises, she went upstairs to find him batting a ping-pong ball around. When she removed it, extending his punishment for "playing," her husband criticized her. She writes: "Shouldn't a child be forbidden any play during a punishment?"

Why should we forbid it to him? Because we want him to concentrate on repenting his sins instead of batting a ping-pong ball around?

If so, forbidding all activity to him may not be the way to get the repentance.

In prisons, adult offenders are not required to spend all their time on cell cots repenting their sins. They are not only given things to do but are required to do them.

We have learned that a punished person does not derive repentance from inactivity. On the contrary, we know that the inactivity promotes such resentment of punishment that the physical inactive prisoner starts brooding over our sins instead of his own. Sometimes we deny a punished youngster any activity because he punished children ourselves, we were denied it. We assume that our little boy is enjoying himself batting a ping-pong ball around because our parents, finding us dressing our doll, assumed we were enjoying ourselves.

But if we make a point of recalling what we actually felt in our lonely room, we'll question our parents' analysis of our emotional state. Despite our appearance of "playing," we were not enjoying ourselves at all.

That was because contact with our parents was much more important to us than contact with our doll. Our "playing" contained the same kind of pleasure prisoners get from watching TV in a penitentiary recreation room.

If we think that the punished child we find "playing" is enjoying himself, we have a pretty poor opinion of our value to him.

And that's bad. He has been removed from our society in order to discover its value to him. He's been punished to register his need of human contact.

If we honestly believe that batting a ball around his room is a satisfactory substitute for association with us, we are the people who need the correcting, not the child. We obviously believe that toys are more attractive than we are.

HOW YOU SLICE IT—Bread prices have risen every year since 1945, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. While bread rose to a new high in 1958, the farmer's share dropped to 16 per cent of the price, as against 24 per cent in 1948. But increases in marketing charges more than made up the difference. Sketch above shows how the price you pay for a loaf of bread is sliced up among those who bring it to you.

Demand for Tougher Sunday Sales Regulation On Agenda

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal for tougher Sunday sales regulation heads for a final House roll call next week after easily riding out moves to kill or weaken it.

Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said the Senate-passed measure may reach a final vote Monday or Tuesday.

Although he declined to forecast the outcome, the survival of the measure in the face of a sharp onslaught by its opponents in the House Tuesday indicated it had enough strength to pass.

House Speaker H. G. Andrews (D - Cambria) described the four hours of debate on the controversial bill as history-making. Rep. Maurice H. Goldstein (R - Allegheny) called it a battle between the big department stores and the big discount houses.

There were religious overtones as the House debated and then defeated 68-116 an amendment to exempt from the Sunday closing law Jews and Seventh Day Adventists who do not sell on Saturday, their Sabbath. In all, 13 amendments aimed at watering down the bill were defeated.

Basically, the bill would increase the fine for Sunday retail sales from $4 to $100. Subsequent offenses within a year would be subject to a $200.

In addition, it lists a series of specific items that cannot be sold on Sunday. They include clothing, furniture, housewares, furnishings, appliances, watches, hardware, tools, paints, building lumber, jewelry, silverware, clocks, luggage, musical instruments, recordings and toys, except novelties and souvenirs.

Other legislative developments: Small Loans — The Senate passed 39-11 legislation to increase from $600 to $800 the ceiling on small loans which can be made by finance companies under the small loan law. The money could be borrowed for 30 months instead of the present 24.

Graduated income tax — The House Judiciary Committee approved a proposed constitutional amendment to allow a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania.

Sunday Sales — Standing votes saw defeat of amendments that would have prohibited the Sunday sale of auto accessories, gasoline, oil, boats, candy, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco.

USDA Announces 1960 Conservation Reserve Program

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently announced plans for the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank for the 1960 crop season. This will be the fifth year of the Conservation Reserve program, under which farmers contract to withdraw general cropland from production and protect it with conservation uses for a period of 3 to 10 years.

The 1960 Conservation Reserve will be similar to the 1959 program. Principal changes have been made in regulations relating to publicly owned land, tenure of ownership, the method of setting payment rates, and the determination of priorities when more applications are received than can be accepted.

Detailed information as to the application of these and other changes to individual farm situations will not be available in county ASC offices until mid-August, since time is required to instruct State and county office personnel in the new program.

The basic national per-acre rate of payment for 1960 will be $13.50, the same as for 1959. The acreage goal is approximately 5 million acres for land to be put in the program under contracts beginning with 1960 crops. This is the estimated maximum additional acreage that can be accommodated under the $375 million annual program authorized by Congress for 1960. This compares with approximately 13 million new acres placed under contract in 1959.

Approximately 10 million acres will also remain under Conservation Reserve contracts in 1960 from years previous to 1959. If farmers contract for the expected 5 million new acres in 1960, the total acreage in the program next year will be approximately 28 million acres.

The principal Conservation Reserve changes for next year will be as follows:

1. Land owned by a State, county, town, or local government will be ineligible for the program—a rule which is already in effect for Federal land.
2. Land which has changed ownership (except through inheritance) since Dec. 31, 1958, is ineligible to enter the program in 1960.
3. If land under a 1960 Conservation Reserve contract is sold, the contract generally may be assumed by the purchaser only after it has been in effect for 3 years.

4. The priority system of accepting applications has been modified to assure first consideration to farmers who were unable to participate in the 1959 program because of lack of funds.

As in 1959, the 1960 Conservation Reserve will be conducted on an offer-and-acceptance basis. Under this plan, the farmer will request that a basic annual per-acre rate be established for his farm, indicating whether he plans to place part or all of his eligible cropland in the program.

Forms for farmers to use in requesting rate determinations for their farms will be available from county ASC offices about the middle of August. The period for filing such requests will be August 24-Sept. 10.

June Deer Mortality
During the month of June the known loss of deer in Pennsylvania was higher than that of any other month this year. However, during the first half of 1959 deaths of the big game animals by dogs steadily declined, month by month. Considerable credit for this is given the Dog Law Division of Dept. of Agriculture, which has vigorously pursued a dog licensing and control program across the Commonwealth.

Record of white tail deaths for last month was: for crop damage, 48; by vehicles, 543; killed illegally, 26; and lost through miscellaneous causes, 81. In the miscellaneous column 16 of the 81 deer were killed by dogs.

The total deer loss in June was 698. This is 84 more than in May, when it was 614. The mortality was higher in all categories last month than in May.

During the first six months of this year 3,804 deer have been killed in Pennsylvania under the above-given headings. Records show this is a little below the mortality figure for the same period in 1958.

Unusual Fishing Operation
While assisting Fish Warden Bartley in Wayne County, late in June, Game Protector Frederick Weigelt enjoyed a rare experience. As Weigelt tells it: "On stream patrol, just as dawn was breaking, I happened onto a fairly large bear. Bruin was lying on a boulder foraging for breakfast food in a clear mountain pool. It was so engrossed in attempts to match a member of the finny tribe I was able to creep within 50 yards undetected. The bear finally scooped out a small fish which it immediately devoured. Then, licking its chops it strolled leisurely into the forest, never aware of my presence. On the same morning Bartley saw a female bear accompanied by a cub weighing about 40 pounds."

Mass Killing Stopped
Since the first of July, game protectors have apprehended an unusual number of deer killers in the northcentral part of Pennsylvania, Game Supervisor LeRoy Gleason reports. But he points to the most revolting case of all, in which two Game Protectors closed the book on a pair of vicious killers.

The officers, Charles Keiper of Renovo and Michael Evancho of Jersey Shore, apprehended the young men on the Coudersport Pike, approximately on the Lycoming-Clinton County line, at 1:20 a. m., on July 18. The culprits—Phillip E. Hevenner, Jr., 21, of North Bend and Raymond A. Wagner of Renovo, 18—had been under suspicion of promiscuous deer killing since early in June. The public had become aroused over the fact dead and dying deer (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Geological Field Trip Planned for District Producers

A geological field trip, which will be open to the public, will highlight the summer meeting schedule of the Middle District Producers Association in Titusville.

William S. Lytle, assistant state geologist with headquarters in Pittsburgh, will be in charge of the day-long trip on Saturday, Aug. 1. The tour will be similar to that arranged for the Annual Field Conference of Pennsylvania Geologists held in mid-May.

One or more special buses will be used to visit points of geological and historical interest in the old oil fields. Mr. Lytle will give a running description and explanation of the places visited.

An illustrated guidebook containing interesting geological and historical comments on the areas visited, will be available at a small price. The only cost of the tour itself will be a nominal fee to cover transportation.

Association President Walter Small of Cooperstown pointed out:

"The tour will be of special interest to high school and college science and history teachers throughout the entire Western Pennsylvania area."

Mr. Small said that those participating will meet at 9 a.m. at the Colonel Drake Hotel and should bring along their own lunches. The tour will visit places of interest in Titusville and vicinity and move into Forest County, returning to Pit-hole City near midday.

The sites of famous early boom towns will be pointed out, along with explanations of the geological features of the areas visited. It is expected the bus will return to the Colonel Drake Hotel in Titusville about 4:30 p.m. after visiting Drake Well Park, last stop on the field trip.

Mr. Small emphasized that the public is welcome to participate in this tour. He asked that those planning to be present make reservations before July 30 with Thomas Beck, Kears City, Pa., or by calling the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, Oil City, so that adequate transportation can be arranged.

Iceland has an area of 40,487 square miles.

will be much of a factor in his getting, or not getting, the nomination. Yet he returned from that journey to an America highly sympathetic for what he had endured.

The anti-American ordeal inflicted on him was not because he was Nixon but because he was American.

No one is suggesting now, a year later, that his Latin American experience will have any weight in 1960.

By the same token—the distance between now and 1960—there's no reason to think his Soviet trip will be a factor on his side in 1960 unless it results in something more significant than has happened up till now.

In this politically conscious city of Washington every move by a politician is weighed for its political impact. It can be overdone.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A metallurgical research center geared to the requirements of the age of space will be built in Baltimore by du Pont. According to du Pont, the center will speed development of high temperature metals for jet engines, rockets and missiles, atomic power generators and other hardware of advance design.

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Harvester Co. will become Dura Corp. Saturday. Originally a farm equipment manufacturer, Detroit Harvester in 1936 acquired the Dura Co. of Toledo, a builder of auto parts. It has since bought companies making die castings, industrial pumps, street sweepers, power lawn mowers, contour beds and other products. Farm equipment now accounts for less than 10 per cent of the company's production.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The New York Central Railroad received permission from the New York

State Public Service Commission to buy 400 hopper cars at a cost of $3,320,000. The Central National Bank of Cleveland will finance the deal. The cars will be built by Despatch Shops Inc. of East Rochester, N. Y.

Warrenites in Fishing Contest

Two Warren feminine anglers were named award winners recently in June fishing competition at Palm Beach Fla. Lucky local gals with the poles and nets were Mrs. Lois F. Henry, 308 Poplar street; and Mrs. Jane Thomson. International Women's Fishing Assn. at Palm Beach, sponsors of the contest, said winners were picked for top catches or number of releases, the best marks from scores of affidavits sent monthly to the organizations awards section by anglers from all parts of the country.

Winners were judged on a point score basis for each kind of fish and type of tackle used in making the catch.

Mrs. Henry caught a 45 pound, 8 ounce white marlin on a 30-pound test at Marathon, Fla., for 618.86 points.

Mrs. Thomson's catch came on a 50-pound test off Bimini for 271 points. Her fish was also a white marlin.

Statuesque Fashion Model From Japan Miss Universe

By PATRICK MCNULTY
LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The pearl crown of Miss Universe rested today on the pretty head of a statuesque fashion model from Japan, the first Oriental to win the international beauty pageant.

The announcement Friday night that leggy Akiko Kojima, 22, had won the coveted crown, brought a roar of applause from the 4,200 spectators jammed into Long Beach Memorial Auditorium.

"I didn't think I would win," said the Tokyo beauty, who stands 5 feet 6 and measures 37-23-33. "I am oh so very happy," she said in her faltering English and then, as tears glistened beautifully in the corners of her almond eyes, she added: "Thank you very much. Thank you so much."

The runners-up, in order of finish, were:

Miss Norway, Jorunn Kristiansen, 18, who stands 5 feet 8 and measures 35-24-35. An aspiring gym teacher, she said she is homesick but may stay in southern California for a movie test in Hollywood.

Miss United States, Terry Linn Huntington, 19, Mount Shasta, Calif. She's 5 feet 6 1/2 and 36-23-33. The UCLA coed is studying dancing, but she said she may take a fling at the movies on the strength of her Miss USA laurels.

Miss England, Pamela Ann Searle, 21. A willowy 5 feet 7, she measures 36-24-36. A drama student in England, Miss Searle said she is anxious to take a crack at a movie screen test offered her this Monday.

Miss Brazil, Vera Ribeiro, 19. A leggy 5-foot-7 brunette from Rio who measures 37-23-37, she said she has had no movie offers so far and—she's homesick.

The new Miss Universe, posing regally in her crown and robe after the contest, said she had a movie offer and plans to make a test next week in Hollywood.

Miss Kojima, who succeeds Colombia's Luz Marina Zuluaga, broke a two-year hold that Latin beauties had held on the Miss Universe title.

Gladys Zender of Peru won the title in 1957.

was a bottom score if the hand made and the gamble looked good to him.

He opened his singleton club. East won with the queen and promptly shifted to the deuce of diamonds. He figured that the club suit could wait awhile. West took his ace and led a spade. Dummy's nine lost to East's ace and now East cashed his two high clubs and led a fourth.

The defense had five tricks in and South had no way to avoid the loss of another one. He made a valiant try by ruffing with the nine but West was there with the killing ten spot.

Of course the defense took no more tricks. South finessed the spade to get to dummy and then picked up the heart suit but down one doubled was enough for the top score.

Protection for School Buses On Tionesta Bridge Is Urged

We are in receipt of a note from Assemblyman James Kepler Davis, of Forest county, containing a copy of a letter Mr. Davis has written three department heads concerned with the need of plans to safeguard school buses crossing the Tionesta bridge which spans the Allegheny river on Routes 36 and 62. In the communications the Forest County Assemblyman points out these facts:

"Now the Department of Highways has recently publicly declared the Tionesta bridge a safe structure within certain limits — ten tons — as I recall. The sincerity of the engineers standing behind this statement is not questioned. But their judgment is questioned by not a few of my constituents and most emphatically by the mothers of young pupils who on next August 31 will start riding school buses over the Tionesta bridge during the 1959-1960 school year.

"As the mothers and some members of the Board of the West Forest Joint School System have outlined it to me — number one — they fear possible combinations of heavy loaded vehicles passing school buses on the bridge. Without traffic control over loaded trucks through recklessness or even mere inadvertence could well meet a heavy school bus at a mid-span position. The span could suddenly experience overload and collapse.

"And this, as I see it, is not just a conjuring up some far-fetched imagery. With the limited load-capacity of the bridge, and heeding the loads that are being hauled over Pennsylvania's highways in this transportation era, it could well happen that such a disastrous combination of mid-span passing loads could occur.

"Point number two, raised by the mothers and some joint school board members, deals with the rickety, aged condition of the structure. The present bridge steel members, in 1906 replacing earlier 1873-installed members, were manufactured when the techniques for inspecting metal were much less dependable than today. Older steel can well harbor defects, undetected, which would never come out of a steel plant today.

"This point is accentuated by the fact that the Tionesta bridge has been a rickety structure ever since our local highways have come to bear heavy truck and bus traffic.

"Through these decades of service, certain parts of the Tionesta bridge structure have come to vibrate even with the passage of a single family-style motor car. Under a heavy load the vibrations are clearly evident — not to be mistaken for the rattling of the floor boards.

"Therefore the question arises — when will the critical fatigue point be reached under such conditions of repeated, heavy vibration? Will some metal structural member let go and fracture at a point of hidden defect and/or stress concentration?"

"These questions are factors when steel-hull, ocean-going vessels are marked for scrap. Admittedly this fatigue — defect — collapse possibility is conjectural for the Tionesta bridge but, as I see it, it is a point not without a fair measure of substance and logic.

"All in all a considerable segment of my constituency believe that, pending the replacement of the Tionesta bridge, certain administrative precautions should be taken to insure against the danger of a major school bus disaster.

"A great many of my constituents feel that traffic should be controlled for short periods when school buses are scheduled to cross the Tionesta bridge, that no other heavy vehicles be permitted on the bridge while a school bus is transiting."

where the lawbreakers were caught.

When taken into custody Hevener and Wagner admitted killing at least 25 deer between June 1 and the time their luck ran out, as well as shooting at numerous other deer. They "did it for kicks," also in order to be able to brag about their exploits, it was learned. Game officials have definite knowledge the pair accounted for 14 white-tails. These saddists gave their killing lust full sway as they drove roads in the big game country, caring little whether it was a buck, doe or fawn they shot. Their firearm was an old, single shot .22 rifle. How many of their "targets" were injured, only to run away had been found in the sector and die a lingering death, is not known. If a deer was struck and it fell wounded it was the young fellows' habit to fire 4 or 5 more bullets into it. After the two men admitted to their crimes, each settled with the Game Protectors on field acknowledgment of guilt forms for the sum of $300. But this was not all the punishment meted out. Each was charged with killing 2 deer in Clinton County and one in Lycoming County. The officers recommended hunting license revocations on both counts, and Supervisor Gleason readily concurred. This could mean that neither of these men who killed "for the fun of it" will be able, lawfully, to hunt for the sport of it for years—whatever the law provides as the maximum penalty, to be sure.

Firearms Education
Says Joseph Leindecker, a Commission officer, "The rural playgrounds in Berks County receive assistance in leadership training and program planning from the County Recreation Board which has 52 of the playgrounds registered this year. Game Protector Koromau and I spoke to the Board leaders about introducing firearms safety into their program. The suggestion was enthusiastically received. Two dates in July were set aside for the gun handling course."

Auto Orphans Turkeys
"A female wild turkey was killed on a road in Monroe County on June 27," says Game Protector John Spencer. "A highway foreman told me this hen had 12 young with her at the time. The poult were almost as large as adult grouse. The orphaned turkeys will have rough going without their mother."

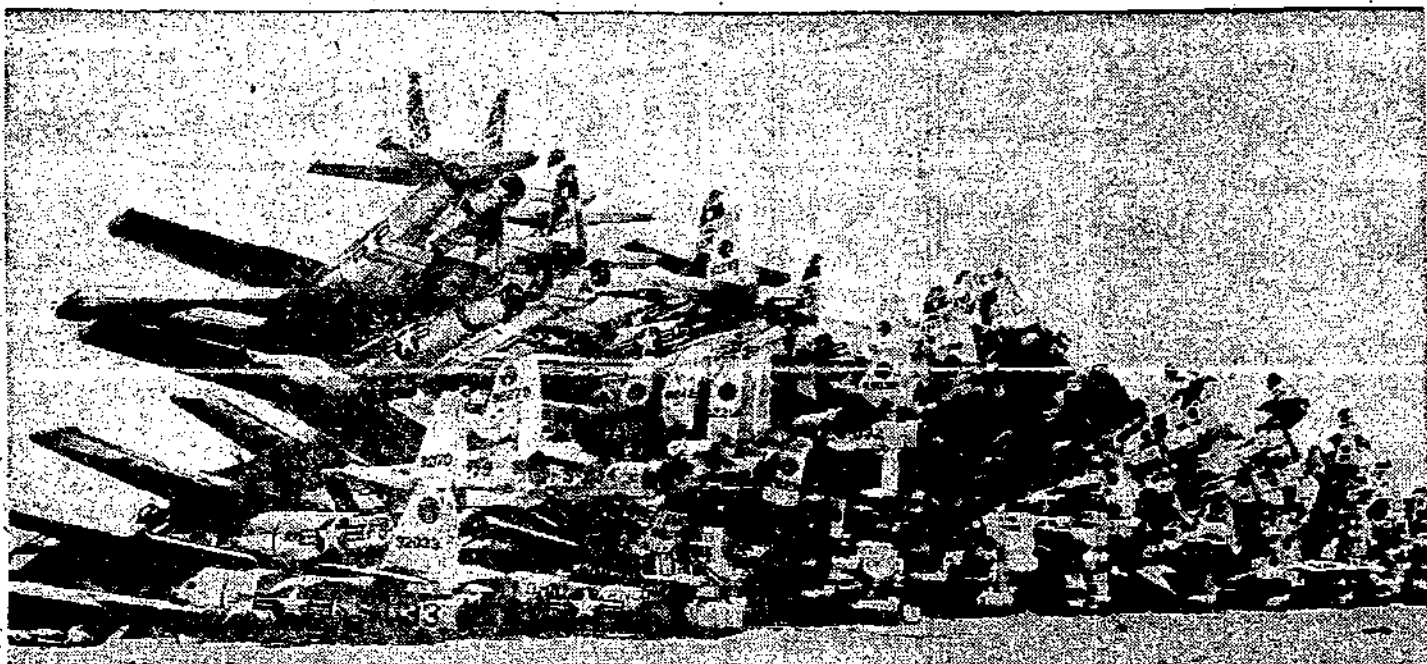

In the same county, Game Protector John Doebling reports: "During the month of June there were the best hatches and the most broods of young ringnecks and wild turkeys I have ever seen in my district."

Deer Relish Clover
Game Protector Elmer Alexander recently examined food strips planted on State Game Lands No. 113, in Mifflin County. He remarks, "The plots, especially those planted to ladino clover, showed heavy grazing by deer. I observed 86 deer on two of the planted areas."

Fear Numbs Rabbits
While on patrol in Clarion County recently Game Protector Leo Badger drove his auto within a short distance of three rabbits sitting nose-to-nose in the middle of a dirt road. Badger reports: "To avoid hitting the animals I came to a complete stop. On stepping from the car I learned why the rabbits 'froze' in that position. A coopers hawk made a pass that would put a jet plane to shame. The 'dumb bunnies' were fear-stricken. The hawk did not connect, so it climbed for altitude and another try. When I moved in to prevent a kill the rabbits were so numb from fright it was almost necessary to kick them off the road."

"EARMARKING"
To "earmark" an item is to set it aside for a specific purpose and it comes from the old custom of slitting, cropping or notching the ears of domestic animals, or even slaves, in such a way as to be a mark of ownership.

Today two-fifths of Minnesota, or nearly 20 million acres, is in forests.

FAR FROM THE WILD BLUE YONDER—Stacks of obsolete U.S. jets rest atop one another. They are piled up in a storage area on the Davis-Monthan Air Force Base near Tucson, Ariz. Planes will end their short lives in blast furnace.

Lawrence Seeks More Government Aid for Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania said today the federal government has failed to assume its share of the responsibility in helping the states combat chronic unemployment.

Lawrence made the comment in a statement prepared for delivery before his State's congressional delegation.

He urged support of legislation which would appropriate 389 1/2 million dollars to attract new industry to economically depressed urban areas and low income rural areas.

Lawrence told congressmen that in view of Pennsylvania's plight, "we ought to have unanimity, or close to it, from our own delegation," adding:

"If we don't then other congressmen, with no distressed area problem of their own, might very well question, and doubt, the severity of the problem as we know it."

The legislation passed the Senate last March. The House Banking and Currency Committee completed action on it May 14. It has been in the House Rules Committee since then.

The program would be financed by large revolving loan funds of 100 million dollars each and 89 1/2 million in federal grants. The loan funds would be for industrial area, rural areas and public facilities such as streets and sewers in both areas.

Fugitives to be Taken Back to West Virginia

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two escaped convicts charged with kidnapping an elderly man were held in Allegheny County Jail today pending their removal to Fairfax County, Virginia.

James E. Hall, 37, and Connie Plott, 27, waived an extradition hearing Tuesday. Bail was set at $50,000 each.

The convicts were captured in Washington, Pa., last Saturday, several days after they escaped from a road gang in Fairfax County.

Peter M. Nielson, 79, of McLean, Va., said the pair forced him at gunpoint to drive them to Washington, Pa. and then released him.

Hall and Plott face charges of kidnapping and unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in Virginia.

Pensioned Steelworkers Want in On Any Pay Boosts

By ART GIERVO
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Attention steel contract negotiators: Pensioned steelworkers say don't forget that they too, want more money.

Some 170 of them came out of retirement in Clairton, Pa., Tuesday to dramatize their demands for better pensions.

Their demands posted on signs, the pensioners marched to the entrance of U.S. Steel Corp.'s strike-bound Clairton works and circled the picket area twice.

"We've got to have a living wage for retired men as well as working men," said Leonard Pickering, vice president of the United Steelworkers Pensioners Assn., Dist. 15.

Pickering said the average pension is $60 a month. He said the men want $4 a year for each year of service.

Meanwhile in Ohio, Gov. Michael DiSalle urged President Eisenhower in a telegram to seek an early end to the steel strike. A prolonged strike, said DiSalle, would severely harm more than 100,000 Ohio steelworkers.

In Washington, the Commerce Department notified 110 steel companies still operating that the government may call on them to divert part of their output to military contractors.

As for the 500,000 striking steelworkers, some are beginning to feel a pinch in their pocketbooks.

Most have drawn their last full paychecks, placing them at the mercy of their savings accounts. The same goes for 78,000 workers furloughed in industries allied to steel.

White Sox Have American Lead All to Selves Again

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer The Chicago White Sox, still outtin' it close and making the most of Al Smith's home runs, have the American League lead all to themselves again—with the help of a Boston shake-up that left Cleveland all shook up.

The last place Red Sox, warned by owner Tom Yawkey to get a move on or move out, whipped Cleveland 8-4 in the second game of a two-night doubleheader Tuesday night after losing the opener 5-2. The loss dropped the Indians to second, a half-game behind the White Sox, who beat New York 4-3 and dumped the world champions into the second division.

It was the White Sox' 24th one-run victory of the season and their seventh while winning nine of their last 13 games. They got it on Smith's two-run homer in the eighth. It was Smitty's 10th of the year and half of them have nailed one-run victories.

The Kansas City A's won their ninth in a row, longest streak in the majors this season, and replaced the Yankees in fourth place with a 6-1 breeze over Washington. The A's, last just two weeks ago, now are within a half-game of third place Baltimore, beaten 8-3 at Detroit.

The Red Sox, after losing six straight, now have taken two of three in a five-game series at Cleveland. They put the nightcap away on Frank Malone's three-run homer in the fourth inning and Pete Runnel's two-run homer in the fifth. Bill Monbouquette 3-3 was the winner, giving up Billy Martin's solo homer in a three-run first inning and needing Mike Fornieles' mop-up in the ninth. Jim Perry was the loser in relief.

The Indians took the first game in a five-run fourth that beat Frank Sullivan 6-7. A two-run single by George Strickland gave them the lead and Jim Baxes' two-run homer capped it. Gary Bell 10-9 was the winner, although walking nine.

Cellar-Dwelling Phillies Still Chilling Contenders

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer Philadelphia's failing Phillies suddenly are the flailing Phillies deep in the cellar but chilling the contenders in the National League pennant race.

They've won seven of their last eight games and 11 of their last 14, rolling up a 5-2 edge over San Francisco and Los Angeles in that two-week spurt. Tuesday night they trimmed the Giants' hold on first place to a half game with a 3-2 victory at San Francisco on an eight-inning home run by Gene Froese and the four-hit pitching of Jim Owens.

The Dodgers reclaimed second place, whipping Pittsburgh 9-4 while the Milwaukee Braves, who had won five straight, slipped to third with a 5-4 loss to the Chicago Cubs. The Braves trail by 1 1/2.

St. Louis blew a 4-0 lead and lost 6-4 to Cincinnati in the other NL game.

Wally Moon drove in four runs for the Dodgers, hammering his eighth homer and two-run double and breaking a 4-all tie with a sacrifice fly off losing reliever Ron Blackburn 1-1 in the fifth inning. Stan Williams 4-3 was the winner with six innings of four-hit, shutout relief. The Pirates, who have lost seven in a row, built a 4-1 lead in two frames against Larry Sherry, scoring two unearned runs in the first and two more on starter Bennie Daniels' first home run in the second.

The Reds, shut out on four hits for six innings by Ernie Broglio, tied the Cards in a four-run seventh, then won it in the eighth on a single by Roy McMillan, who had been out six weeks with a broken hand. Marshall Bridges 4-2 was the loser with ex-Card Jim Brosnan 4-5 the winner in relief.

Pirates Drop 8th Straight Losing To Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—And still the Pirates keep losing.

They went down to their eighth straight defeat, 9-4 Tuesday night at the hands of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Pirates made it close for a while, battling on even terms through four innings. But the Dodgers broke a 4-4 tie with one run in the fifth and iced the game with four more in the sixth.

Wally Moon drove across four Los Angeles tallies with a home run, a double and a sacrifice fly.

Pitcher Bennie Daniels, who started for Pittsburgh, hit a two-run homer in the second inning with Bill Virdon aboard. It was Daniels' first home run and first runs batted in of the season.

The Pirates got two unearned runs off starter Larry Sherry in the first. Dick Groat and Bob Skinner walked. With two out, Charlie Neal hobbled Smokey Burgess' grounder at second. Bill Mazeroski then singled home Groat and Skinner.

Stan Williams pitched six innings of shutout ball for Los Angeles after relieving Art Fowler in the fourth, and gained his fourth victory in seven decisions.

Ron Blackburn, second of four Pirate hurlers, gave the Dodgers their go-ahead run in the fifth and was charged with his first loss against one triumph. Don Gross and Bob Porterfield finished.

Pittsburgh will try again tonight to win its first game of the current road trip, sending Vernon Law (11-6) against Roger Craig (5-2) of the Dodgers.

Thanks to league-leading San Francisco's 3-2 loss to Philadelphia, the Pirates remained 6 1/2 games off the pace in fifth place.

Gerarde Lays Georgia Boxer Low for KO Win

Tom Gerarde's powerful right knocked out Don Norman of Atlanta, Ga., in Miami Beach Auditorium last night.

The KO victory, Gerarde's first in his four pro fights, came weeks after losing his only fight-for-pay battle by a mere two points.

The Miami pro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gerarde of Tiona, fought in amateur ranks out of Warren for two years before joining the professional ranks in Florida earlier this spring.

Norman weighed in at 174 and Gerarde at 176. "Rocky" has a black left eye and a swelling over the eye, but no cuts, as proof of Norman's fight record. The Atlanta boxer has won seven out of his eight pro fights by KO route.

In talking to his parents by telephone last evening, Tom said Norman was a good, stiff puncher.

Gerarde has gained several pounds since the last time he fought. Tom said he felt better fighting in a heavier condition. It was his experience here that he could box better weighing around 180 pounds. His handlers were trying him in a lightweight division, which proved unsuccessful.

Tom expects to have another fight in about two weeks. After that, he will visit at home for a month before returning to Miami. Rocky expects to be kept busy after October, when the tourist trade begins rising.

Another Pro Football Team Being Considered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fans have been promised a new era in sports: More major leagues for both football and baseball, bringing the pros to almost every section of the country.

Football was added to the promise Tuesday when Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League reported that a rival league planned to start operations next year in six cities.

"The more teams and the more competition the better," Bell said.

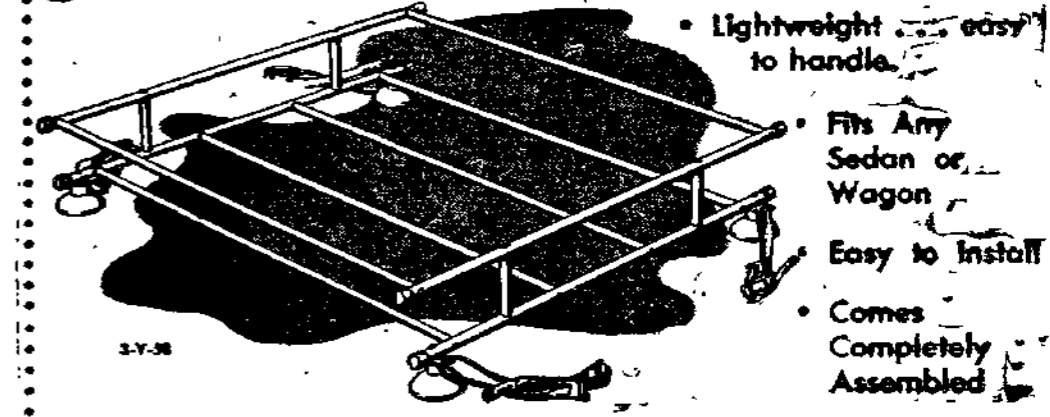

Just the day before, a group in New York had announced that a new major baseball league planned to be in business by 1961.

No Parties for Casey on His 69th Birthday

By JOE MOOSHL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel, the grizzled, little old man who manages the New York Yankees, is going to be 69 Thursday but there'll be no birthday parties.

Neither is Casey ready to announce his retirement, so he says. "Retirement, I don't know anything about," said Stengel. "They started that talk 12 years ago and I'm still around, ain't I?"

What about a party?
"If I were in Kansas City like the last two years, it could be," said Casey. "But, then, the way we've been going this year they don't want to give me a birthday and I don't care for one."

Casey's primary target is to pull together his Yankee forces for the stretch drive in the championship race. Even with his team crippled from injuries and sickness, Casey and his Yankees are not quite ready to abdicate.

"Look at that guy there," said Stengel, pointing to pitcher Bob Turley. "He's had pains in the chest and that's the first time he's done any throwing in a long time. He might be coming around. Our catcher (Yogi Berra) is starting to hit. Now if I could pull my infield together, we might get going a little bit."

Wife Says Dick Stuart Behind in His Support

LOS ANGELES (AP) — First baseman Dick Stuart of the Pittsburgh Pirates has an appointment in Santa Ana, Calif., within the next 10 days to answer his ex-wife's charge of failure to provide for his two children.

Stuart was served with the warrant Tuesday. He surrendered at the Los Angeles Hall of Justice and posted $1,000 bail. Stuart said "the whole thing is a misunderstanding." He said his paycheck was late but that he has sent two payments to his wife and is one month ahead of schedule.

Baseball Managers Go Out When Front Offices Flop

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—When a baseball owner stands up for his manager while the club is giving a sustained impression of the Perth Amboy firemen at a picnic, that'll be the day.

Ever since the game was organized, it has been the cowardly philosophy of the magnates to make the manager the fall guy for the witless clamor of the fans. This long since became a diversionary tactic and the fact that it generally worked out well, temporarily at least, made it commonplace.

Falling attendance is checked, which is the main idea, although baseball people know that the club as constituted will fall right back into the rut as quickly as the novelty wears off. The Red Sox are the most recent example of this. How much better it would have been had Tom Yawkey said: "Changes will have to be made, but we know that Mike Higgins is a dedicated and fine manager. This isn't his fault. It is the front office that flopped. We kept bringing up dinky left-hand power hitters. Ted Williams is on his last legs, there are holes in the infield and the pitching collapsed."

YAWKEY PASSED UP a grand opportunity to establish a new tradition. The customers understand. The Boston club would not have lost a patron. Besides, it's the only game in town.

Knowledgeable baseball people expected Fred Haney to be supplanted when the Braves bogged down with their pitchers: "And Birdie Tebbets, like Yawkey just before him, muffed a splendid chance of putting an end to the unrealistic practice of making proven field marshals scapegoats for fumbling clubs. Instead of putting his finger on the reasons for the trouble, Executive Vice President Tebbets of Milwaukee said: 'You've got to have faith in a manager who wins two league titles and one world championship in two years.'"

A statement like that from any member of the brass is tantamount to the kiss of death. Such a vote of confidence in the past has meant that the recipient would walk the plank.

HOW QUICKLY BEING kicked upstairs makes even an old manager forget! Tebbets should have remembered what Gabe Paul said when the present boss of the Braves was let go in Cincinnati. "Tebbetts was a good manager," General Manager Paul asserted. "I didn't fire him. The fans made it impossible for me to keep him."

The Reds have had three managers since. Tebbets also might have explained that it was the failure of the front office to replace the ailing second baseman, Red Schoendienst, that put two strikes on Haney.

CONNIE MACK WAS THE ONLY manager who had the racket beaten. He owned the Athletics he managed for 50 years. If conclusive evidence is required to prove that the manager is no better than the horses, take a look at Charles Dillon Stengel. The old professor was considered little more than a sidewinding buffoon while laughing off bad National League clubs in Brooklyn and Boston.

Given the New York Yankees and all that goes with them, however, Casey Stengel won nine pennants and seven world championships in 10 years.

Harold Gomez Named 'Fighter of the Month'

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold Gomez of Providence, R.I., is named "Fighter of the Month" in the Ring magazine monthly ratings announced today.

Gomez came off the floor four times to win a decision over Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., in what was billed as a junior lightweight championship bout, and as a result was advanced from eighth to fourth in the featherweight rankings.

The heavyweight division saw minor shakeups. Henry Cooper of England was dropped from third to fifth because of inactivity, and Sonny Liston of Philadelphia and Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., each advanced a notch to third and fourth, respectively. Machen's kayo of Reuben Vargas brought about his new rating.

Jones Tilt Nine Nameless Players From Warren, 13-5

Strengthened by the return of injured regulars and backed up by the three-hit pitching of "Branch" Hammerbeck, Jones Chevrolet of Sheffield walloped Nameless Nine 13-5 Monday night.

Warren combine caught the blow on State Hospital diamond in City Softball action.

Hammerbeck aided his own cause when the Sheffield hurler blasted one of three Jones home runs.

Sheffield outfit was able to hold an early lead, setting the pace 10-0 before Nameless pushed their first and final five runs across the plate bottom of second inning.

Chevy salesmen began building their lead when Rosetti singled and Bires doubled. Zelesnok's two run smash to left field drove in first runs. Zelesnok was thrown out sliding into third, just one pitch before Kolesar rolled off the first Sheffield homer. Fitch and Hammerbeck scored on Hoden's hit.

In second inning, Kasaback led off with a single for Jones, scoring on Bires' double, his second of the game. This put two on when Hammerbeck homered. Dick Smith replaced Tinelli on the mound and rapidly retired the Sheffield batters.

Warren's five runs followed, coming on two walks and three errors.

Jones added three more runs in fourth, Hoden's home run doing the damage.

Tomorrow evening, Jones and Nameless clash again, at Sheffield.

Braves Victims Of Cubs' Rush Toward the Top

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Chicago Cubs are flexing their muscles in the National League pennant race. And the Milwaukee Braves are chief victims of the surprising kayo punch.

The Cubs laughed at Milwaukee's vaunted pitching talent again Tuesday night in defeating the Braves 5-4 for their eighth victory in 13 games against the defending NL champs.

"It isn't just the Braves, we've been playing pretty good ball," said Cubs Manager Bob Schefling. "We're not far back and we can go all the way if we keep playing this way."

The Cubs are in fourth place, three games behind the Braves and 4½ behind San Francisco, the leaders.

Chicago came to town after splitting two games with Los Angeles and winning two of three from first place San Francisco. Milwaukee had a five-game winning streak, but it didn't impress the Cubs.

Q—Why are the Arabic numerals so called?

A—They are called the Arabic numerals because the people of Europe got them from the Arabs. But the Arabs always said their notation was the work of the Hindus. They never claimed they invented it themselves.

Q—What incident inspired the children's folk song, "London Bridge Is Falling Down?"

A—In the time of Shakespeare, London Bridge was lined with houses and resembled a street. The houses were torn down when the bridge became unsafe, and this destruction inspired the famous singing game.

Q—Which historical era did the Rattlesnake Flag represent?

A—Colonial America.

easily defeated Japanese-American Mitsuyuki Kido 85-593 to 73,755 for the lieutenant governorship.

Fong, son of a poor Chinese farmer, and Inouye, Japanese-American World War II hero, will be the first legislators of Chinese and Japanese ancestry to serve in Congress.

By winning three of the five top offices in the 50th state's first election Tuesday, Republicans made a surprise showing.

Democrats had been favored on the strength of a strong primary election showing a month ago and their successive victories in every Hawaii territorial election since 1954.

After trailing for hours, William F. Quinn, a Republican serving as appointed governor, moved ahead of Democrat John A. Burns in a narrow race.

While these two Irishmen House Democrats Daniel K. Inouye, 34-year-old lawyer who will be the first person of Japanese ancestry to serve in Congress.

A Republican of Chinese descent and a Democrat of many years political experience in the islands held the leads for the two Senate seats.

The election Tuesday brought a record turnout approaching 70,000 of Hawaii's 183,000 registered voters—93 per cent of those eligible.

Republicans pinned their hopes in the Senate race on Fong, born in Hawaii the seventh son of poor Chinese parents. His father was an illiterate farm laborer, but Fong, 52, became a millionaire businessman.

His Democratic opponent, Con- the territorial Senate and scored the only major upset last month in winning the Democratic nomination in the primary.

The other Senate race brought together two veterans of island politics.

Democrat Long, 70, is a long-time member of the Hawaii Legislature and served as the appointed governor in 1951-53.

Republican Tsukiyama, 62, also is a veteran island legislator, considered the dean of Hawaii's politicians of Japanese ancestry.

going to be hurt by a bear hug," said George A. Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet Union Cultural Committee who is escorting the vice president. "But they were hugs of friendship."

Novosibirsk, a thriving city which has grown from 120,128 to 880,000 in population in 35 years, has often been called a closed city to foreigners.

But, "they all knew we were here," Nixon said.

Few in the frontier city had ever seen an American. Thousands lined the streets to cheer the Nixon party and in their enthusiasm almost mobbed a busload of American newsmen traveling with the vice president.

Now a city of more than 600,000, Sverdlovsk has been a leading industrial center since the Russians moved war industries here in World War II. It is 850 miles east of Moscow.

On several occasions questioners stood toe to toe with Nixon challenging him to say why the United States will not accept Soviet plans for ending nuclear tests and why it will not trade more with the Soviet Union.

The vice president's patience wore a little thin when, standing atop an incomplete hydroelectric dam, a workman kept shouting questions and interruption. The questioner was identified as Grigory Belasov Federovic, 30, an electrician.

and points to steel profits in an attempt to prove it.

The union seeks a 15-cent hourly annual increase. At the time of the strike steelworkers averaged $3.10 an hour.

The Steelworkers Union and other unions made similar demands in the aluminum industry, and they were turned down. Aluminum wages range between $2.76 and $2.91 an hour.

The Steelworkers Union and the Big Three companies involved — The Aluminum Company of America, the Reynolds Metals Co., and the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. — agreed Tuesday to extend current contracts 30 days beyond the steel settlement date, or until next Nov. 1, whichever is earlier. The agreement would be retroactive to Aug. 1. It covers about 30,000 of the Big Three's 58,000 production workers.

The Aluminum Workers International Union reached a similar agreement with ALCOA. Union talks with Reynolds were scheduled later today.

Drinking Test On Safety Program Backfires Little

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—A television program backfired Tuesday night when three motorists did better after drinking whisky than they did while dry.

The three Britons—two men and a girl—volunteered to help a BBC safety program "How Good a Driver Are You?" prove that alcohol slows down a driver's reactions.

The test consisted of negotiating an automobile over a set course, with a lot of reversing, turning and going forward and without knocking down or touching a series of posts.

The first driver sober, swung through the course in 45.5 seconds. Then he drank two whiskeys and made it in 42 seconds.

The girl, a 21-year-old secretary, took 44 seconds before the drinks and 38.5 after.

The third driver's times: before 43.5; after 38.

Prof. Robert Drew of University College hastened to explain that the experiment was carried out too quickly.

"The second test was taken before the alcohol really had time to get into the bloodstream," said the professor.

"The drivers also knew they were under test conditions, and so they pulled out that extra little bit."

Only Time

(From Page One)

GENEVA — The President asserted there still is no progress at the foreign ministers' conference which would justify the holding of a summit meeting, but he declined — in response to a question — to give an opinion as to whether the outlook is so hopeless that the conference should be abandoned.

FOREIGN AID — The cuts in foreign aid funds made by a House bill would seriously damage the American position in the cold war, Eisenhower said. He added that he is very, very hopeful the Senate will restore much of the money.

LABOR REGULATIONS — The President gave virtual endorsement to a new labor bill introduced in the House several days ago by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.). The bill is reported by the House Labor Committee and is described by union officials as much tougher than the committee version.

Eisenhower said the bill, which would crack down on secondary boycotts and what he called blackmail picketing, goes a long way toward meeting the recommendations for labor legislation that he made to Congress in January.

He called it a tremendous improvement over earlier and weaker versions, and commended the sponsors.

HAWAII — The President opened his news conference with a volunteered expression of gratification over the outcome of Tuesday's election in Hawaii.

He said his gratification was not primarily over the success of three Republicans — the governor, lieutenant governor and one senator — but at the fact that among the successful candidates, regardless of party, were Americans of Chinese, Japanese and Hawaiian extraction.

MISSILES — The President said emphatically he does not believe the lag in long-range U. S. missile development has placed this country at a disadvantage in the negotiations at Geneva.

TEMPORARY COOLING — This morning's downfall was a short break in the hot, muggy weather which the Warren area has experienced for some time. Hard showers suddenly swept across the countryside and left as quickly. Allegheny River stood at season low, 17 feet.

Weather observer Gil Ruler said the river was still falling.

Committee Plans Hearings on Fish Conditions in Pa.

HARRISBURG (AP)—If Pennsylvania fishermen who have a story to tell, the House Fisheries Committee wants to listen.

Chairman William B. Curwood (D-Luzerne) said today he would like to hear from the "little guy" when his committee opens hearings on fishing conditions in Pennsylvania early next month.

"If warranted, the committee would like to hold hearings in different regions—to give fishermen from Pittsburgh to the Poconos an opportunity to be heard," Curwood said.

A resolution authorizing the committee to look into the reasons behind the decline in the sale of state fishing licenses won speedy approval Tuesday. The resolution was given first priority when the House convened.

There seemed little doubt, however, the investigation would go far afield from the purpose stated in the authorization.

Rep. Harris G. Breth (D-Clearfield), and outdoors writer and a prominent member of Curwood's committee, commented:

"There seems to be a wave of resentment against recent policies of the Fish Commission, particularly in its fish stocking program. The committee should leave no stone unturned in trying to decide what has happened to influence nearly 100,000 anglers not to renew their fishing privileges in the past few years. If this means that the fish laws have to be radically amended, I personally believe the committee will so recommend."

Through facilities of Bernard Wingert, Warren County Farm Agent, and Lloyd Adams, entomologist from Penn State for Warren County, it was learned that the male woolly aphid is mating with the females in trees now.

Females, not having wings, are stationary on tree leaves from the time they hatch until death, about one year. Males, in an advanced stage, are provided wings by Mother Nature to move to the females for fertilization of eggs. The males then die.

Mr. Adams said the excess bug condition in this area will last not more than one week. Just as any other insect, the woolly aphid has its peak years and its poor years of quantity, this year being an exceptionally peak year, causing millions to swamp highways.

Mr. Adams, who will be in Warren Friday, told Times-Mirror that when the insect is in cocoon form, scales are present, either soft, hard or woolly. This particular species has a woolly scale, giving it the name woolly aphid.

Maple trees in the area have an abundance of the insects this year. On some trees, they are clearly visible. The bug itself, in male stage, has three pair of legs, two sets of transparent wings, two black "nobs" on its head and lays yellowish eggs about one-quarter inch long. Two long trailing threads are also present.

After the eggs are fertilized by the male, a "crawler" with six legs is developed. They move to new parts of the tree, beginning another life cycle. Males grow wings then fly over leaves and branches to females.

that was not a fact. As for the administration's secrecy policies, he said there has been no administration...

At that point Mollenhoff started to rise to ask another question.

Looking at him sternly the President told the reporter to please sit down.

Eisenhower went on to say that no administration has gone to such lengths to make information available to the public as has his. He said he has been around Washington off and on since 1926 and the policies of his administration are certainly no more severe in this field than those of other administrations.

The President said that in 1954 the attorney general gave an opinion that reports evaluating the operation of foreign aid programs in overseas countries were an executive matter. He said the attorney general held that the kind of move proposed in the House amendment constituted a direct invasion of executive responsibility and therefore was unconstitutional.

He doesn't think, the President said, that an amendment of that kind will ever get to this desk. He said he doesn't believe Congress would be so careless in a matter that involves the balance of power between the three divisions of government.

Woolly Aphids Swarm Area

Woolly aphid, which swarmed across areas of Warren County Tuesday evening, began their mating season in abundant numbers this week. Pictured above is the male stage of woolly aphid, which is traveling to trees to mate with females. Millions covered roads throughout the area last night.

Favorable climatic and nature conditions have caused an abundance of woolly aphid which covered highways throughout Warren County last night.

The all-white male insect began their migration to trees where females are attached to begin mating to form the next generation.

Route 6 from Glade through Clarendon, Tidoute bridge and other nearby areas, were covered with the traveling insects as they begin a week-long mating period.

Roadsides were white with dead male woolly aphid this morning, millions being killed by passing cars and natural death. Driving through the flying, dodging bugs Tuesday night, resembled light snow flurries as the winged insects smashed against autos. Crushing of the males under the wheels could be heard as autos passed by, giving hint of the intensity of their migration.

Through facilities of Bernard Wingert, Warren County Farm Agent, and Lloyd Adams, entomologist from Penn State for Warren County, it was learned that the male woolly aphid is mating with the females in trees now.

Around the Area With The County Agent!

By Bernie Wingert, Warren County Agricultural Agent

Each month I get a folder from Shell Chemical Company called "Scan" which means Shell Chemical Agricultural News. It tells what's new in agricultural chemicals and gives interesting bits of information like this —

"The American Indian of the old frontier often dined on such untempting delights as roast grasshoppers, fly pupae, honey-filled ants, and other such morsels of the insect population. To most Americans the following "delicacies" are merely novelty products: canned roast grasshoppers, canned rattle-snake meat, beetle grubs, dried termites, roast caterpillars, bird nest soup, and chocolate covered grasshoppers. But, as foods, many primitive people eat them with gusto."

"Probably the most interesting food eaten by Indians was the honey ant, found in certain areas in the west. These ants gathered honey during the summer. Since they had no honeycombs in which to store it, they fed it to certain individual ants in the underground nests who then became tremendously swollen with honey. Actually they were animated honey pots with abdomens as large as small grapes. The Redmen dug out these ants and ate them like we would eat candy and they were regarded as a special delicacy with which to honor guests."

I'm writing this before breakfast this morning and I'm getting mighty hungry, but I still prefer buckwheat cakes and apple butter to a bowl of honey ants. Well, anyway the whole reason for getting on the ant discussion is because a lot of folks have been inquiring about how to kill ants that have invaded their homes or are busy building mounds in their back lawns.

There are a number of different kinds of ants that nest in the lawn and are a nuisance in the home. They are social insects that live in colonies. All colonies have a queen whose sole purpose is to lay eggs and maintain the population of the colony. The queen, her eggs, and the young larvae are cared for by the worker ants. In the spring, and sometimes in the fall, winged males and females emerge from strong colonies and their purpose is to establish new colonies. So you see with a setup like that your job of eliminating them is about as difficult as cleaning up the Teamsters Union.

There are several materials that will do a good job in the home. They are Dieldrin and Chlordane. You can buy either a 1 per cent dieldrin or a 5 per cent chlordane dust or it is sometimes bought as household type dieldrin or chlordane spray. Make weekly applications around baseboards, window sills, drain pipes, or other areas where ants are noticed. Two to three applications should do the job.

Ant infestations in the lawn can be eliminated by sifting one teaspoon of 5 per cent chlordane over each colony. The treated area should then be sprinkled thoroughly with water.
